

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The old Sharon scandal is on the California legal track again.

Persistent reports denied and repeated daily announce that the Union Pacific Railroad is bankrupt. Is Jay Gould trying to buy up some more stock?

Tom Fitch is writing a novel. He couldn't pen anything stranger or more interesting than a truthful record of his own life.

An exchange remarks that a woman would think as much of her husband as she does of her dog if the former always showed that he is as glad to see her as the dog. Perhaps he would if it wasn't for that confounded dog.

Helena, Montana, has a young woman named Knowles who is made of the right sort of timber. She is a successful member of the Bar, with many clients, and in addition to her legal duties she is the secretary of a lumber company.

The theatrical methods of Sam Jones have received an unexpected endorsement in Houston, Texas, where the gentleman was recently treated to an ovation of eggs which were somewhat the worse for wear.

One of the war relics recently sent to the War Department at Washington is a battle-scarred ambulance guidon. It has a dozen holes in it made by the bullets of Sioux Indians during the fight at Wounded Knee Creek. As the red cross on a field of white is respected by all combatants in civilized warfare, the inference is obvious.

The youngest man who will sit in the House of Representatives at Washington next Winter will be a Texan. His name is Bailey. He is considerably under 30, wears long, sweeping coat tails and looks like Stephen A. Douglas, or Robert Toombs, or some other anti-war statesman.

Governor Campbell of Ohio is a Democrat who constantly feels called upon to apologize for the position which his party occupies on the leading questions of the day. His frank avowal that he is not in favor of the free coinage of silver has attracted wide attention.

Stock speculators, grown reckless in their greed for wealth, have committed many crimes, but nothing heretofore has quite equalled the effort of Barcelona speculators to get up an apparent revolution in order to depress the prices of securities. The fifteen armed men who, it is said, were induced to attack the military in order to promote the "bear" raid will probably have to pay for it with their lives, but those who hired them for this work should certainly be shot with them.

The Statistical Bureau of the United States reports the foreign arrivals during the late fiscal year to have been 555,493, as against 451,219 immigrants for the previous year. But these figures do not include the influx from Mexico, Canada or China. The publication of these figures will stiffen the general opinion that the time has arrived for putting up the bars somewhat higher.

Oakland Enquirer: The editor of the Sacramento Bee has a severe idea of journalistic duty. The other day, in arguing a case in court, Grove L. Johnson began a sentence thus:

The lying wretch who edits the Daily Bee, otherwise known as Charley McClatchy, saw fit to intimate in his lying paper—

The News, a rival paper, struck out this part of the speech, but the Bee declared that it was a mistaken courtesy; that it ought to have been printed as a matter of news, and that the omission was bad journalism. We beg to differ; every blackguardly statement made by a lawyer in court is not news.
